Organized Ramblings (International Version): Home Education From A to Z Catherine McGrew Jaime
Catherine has been homeschooling her 12 children for the last 30 years. This is her alphabetical guide to their home education adventures, with 26 chapters that will encourage you and motivate you to keep going. As of 2012, Catherine has graduated ten of her own children, and assisted with the homeschooling of many others. Her adult children are following their passions around the world, including one that is now in the Marines, one that is a lawyer, and one who has his masters in International Business. She can tell you from personally experience that homeschooling does indeed work! Whether you are just considering homeschooling, are a frustrated beginner or a veteran in danger of burning out, Organized Ramblings will encourage you in your journey. So what makes the new international version different? From the Introduction: "In the summer of 2011 I traveled to Albania to hold my first granddaughter. While there I had the great joy of being asked to speak about my homeschooling experiences and philosophies to a group of homeschool moms, both Albanian and American. When I shared with those women I realized that while much of what I wrote more than thirteen years ago in the original Organized Ramblings transcended country and cultural boundaries, some of it was from a very US-perspective. I have attempted here, in this International Version of the book, to maintain the original setup and flavor of the book, while at the same time modifying some of my 'Americanisms.'"
